About Us

Welcome to Therapist Connect by Psych Insights!

Finding the right psychological support can be overwhelming. Many people don't know where to begin. Long waiting lists, limited availability, and even GPs with the best intentions may struggle to connect you with the right psychologist.

That's where Therapist Connect steps in.

Our platform streamlines the search process, helping you find a psychologist who fits your unique needs. Whether you prefer in-person sessions, telehealth, or require expertise in areas such as anxiety, trauma, relationships, or ADHD, our platform lets you filter options to suit your lifestyle.

We're here to remove the barriers to care so you can focus on what matters most — getting the support you need, when and where you need it.

Meet the Experts Who Make a Difference

Therapist Connect partners with highly qualified psychologists dedicated to providing exceptional care for a variety of mental health needs.

The psychologist's profiles should be underneath this part. At the moment, they are in the section above.

Claiming Medicare Rebates for Psychology Sessions

Access Affordable Mental Health Care in Australia

These images (below) should be in this section, rather than the section above.

Book an appointment with your GP

Book an extended appointment with your GP to get a Mental Health Plan and a referral letter.

Upload your Medicare documents

Upload your Mental Health Plan & referral to your My Mirror dashboard to share them with your psychologist.

Complete and pay for your session

You will be charged the private fee after your session. Part of this session fee can be rebated through a Medicare self-claim.

Receive rebates to your account

Once you submit your claim it will be processed by Medicare, and you'll receive the rebate back into your account.

Medicare rebates make psychological support more accessible and affordable for eligible Australians. You could receive up to:

- $89.65 per session for a registered psychologist.
- $131.65 per session for a clinical psychologist.
